

K-Love, one of my favorite radio stations, speaks to the heart of audiences all over the country. Priority given to LPFMs could force K-LOVE off the air in many areas where FM translators provide the only access to this programming. Government policy should not interfere with broadcasting already benefiting the community. It is in the interest of the FCC to consider the negative impact on audiences that a change such as this could cause.